U. S. HEAVIES POUND NAZIS SECOND DAY

Targets Bombed in Northwest Sector While Mediums Attack France.

By The Associated Press
LONDON, March 3—American heavy bombers pounded Germany for the second straight day today, concentrating on undisclosed objectives in the northwest sector.

RAF formations, taking to the air last night for their second successive night, had hammered aircraft factories near Paris and at Albert in northern France only a few hours before.

The U. S. bombers were escorted by Eighth and Ninth American heavy bomber groups, as well as allied fighters, indicating the operation was of considerable size.

The day's attacks also included RAF strikes at the French "rocket gun" sector.

RAF Escapes Loss
The RAF's operations, including Mosquito strikes at western Germany and mine-laying in enemy waters, were carried out without loss.

The attacks in France were part of a sustained allied offensive to knock out German aircraft production and clear the Luftwaffe from the skies in preparation for allied invasion of western Europe.

The target in the Paris area was an aircraft assembly plant at Neuilly-sur-Seine, a few miles north of the former French capital. Albert is about 80 miles north of Paris.

The air ministry said both targets were "heavily identified and first reports indicate that the bombing was effective."

The air campaign continued without interruption today as bombers streamed toward the continent shortly after dawn.

Hit Northern France
American Marauders attacked airfields in northern France this morning while RAF Typhoons hit enemy emplacements in the pocket gun sector, it was announced.

American Fortresses and Liberators, accompanied by possibly the largest armada of fighters ever sent from Britain, yesterday blasted unspecified targets in southwest Germany and in France, including the airfield at Chartres, 30 miles southwest of Paris.

An air ministry communiqué today said two medium bombers and one fighter-bomber and two fighters were missing in sweeps by the allied expeditionary air force yesterday.

A communiqué announced 11 bombers and three fighters failed to return from the heavy bombing operations. Fighters destroyed 10 German planes.

Paul Lukas and Jennifer Jones Win Hollywood's Prized Oscars

By The Associated Press
HOLLYWOOD, March 3—Movieland's coveted "Oscar" awards for the best acting performances of 1943 are held today by Hungarian-born Paul Lukas, 48, and Oklahoma-born Jennifer Jones, 24, while "Casablanca" has the acclaim as last year's best film.

The famous little gold-plated statuettes, given each year by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences and constituting the industry's top laurels, were awarded last night in Grauman's Chinese theater before a glittering array of other hopeful acting candidates and 2,048 fans who paid $11 admission each.

Miss Jones won the prize by her performance on her 24th birthday for her peasant-girl performance in "The Song of Bernadette." Previously she had appeared in only a few minor roles.

Lukas' award was for his portrayal of the impassioned anti-Nazi in "Watch on the Rhine." Monocled Charles Coburn won the honor for the best supporting role by an actor by his performance in "The More the Merrier."

Kathina Paxinou was adjudged the best supporting actress for her work as a pillar in "For Whom the Bell Tolls."

The best-director accolade went to Michael Curtiz for "Casablanca."

Points on Vegetables Lowered, Canned Fruit Values Are Raised

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 3—A number of canned vegetables including tomatoes, peas and corn will have substantially lower point values beginning Sunday, but shoppers will have to give up considerably more ration points for canned fruits.

The ration cost of tomato and citrus juices also will be boosted in the March chart of processed food values, with grapefruit juice, point free during the last three months, back on the list at 1 point for a number 2 can. Increased also are point values on canned lima beans, tomato catsup and grape juice.

OPA announced the new ration values today.

No change is made in current values on frozen foods, preserves and jellies, dry beans, canned soups and baby food, but the revised chart gives point-free ratings to canned fresh-shelled beans, dry prunes, raisins, currants and mixed dried fruits.

"Victory gardeners and home canners received 'full credit' from OPA Administrator Chester Bowles for the sharp downward adjustment of vegetable point-values, which the changes make the lowest since the start of rationing."

Urges Gardens This Year
"They did a magnificent job last year," Bowles said in expressing hope more victory gardens will be grown in 1944. "It

English Girl Notifies American Soldier-Father of Death of Child.

HEANOR, DERBYSHIRE, ENGLAND, March 3—Norah Rose Carpenter was distressed today by the death of MacDonald, the youngest of her quadruplets born Monday, but her first thought was of their soldier-father—that he had to be notified and that it would be a blow to him.

As I talked to her in her home, she said quietly: "I must write out a telegram to tell Red that the youngest is dead. It will be a shock to him."

With a pink jacket about her shoulders as she sat up in bed, Norah put her story into three simple words—"I love Red."

"Red" is staff Sgt. William Thompson, Pittsburgh, Pa., who both the girl's mother, Mrs. Ellen Carpenter, and Miss Edith Matthews, nursing home superintendent, said is the babies' father.

Thompson visited the 23-year-old former member of the British auxiliary territorial service last night.

Met in 1942
Norah said she met Thompson Dec. 16, 1942—"the first day he was allowed out of camp after his arrival in England. I knew he was married right from the first, but it was just one of those things."

"At first, he talked about his wife a good deal. We tried to break it up on account of her, but we couldn't. We tried to quit going together. But we couldn't. In May, I think it was, he wrote her and asked for his freedom. She said no, because of her religion. (Thompson's wife is Catholic.)"

"I feel he has been fair with me."

"Do you still want to marry him?" I asked.

"Yes, I do," she replied.

"Does he still want to marry you?"

"Yes."

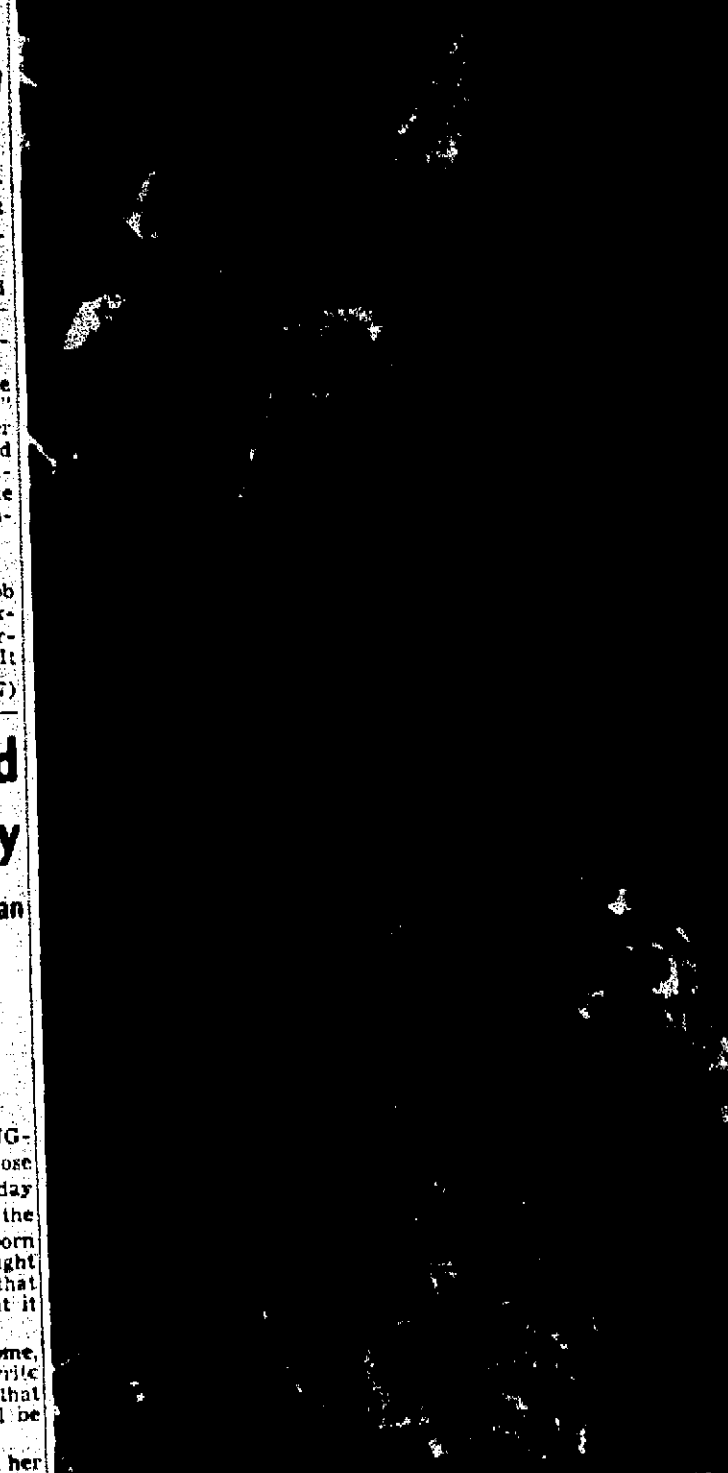

Norah herself was reported "not too well" this morning.

Her mother said Thompson had visited the Carpenter home last night.

Later, she said, he sent a wire.

German Deserts Nazis in Hope of Fighting on Allied Side

Former Military Attache at Istanbul Tells Why He Turned Against National Socialist Party.

(Erich Vermehren, former assistant German military attache at Istanbul, recently made his way into allied territory and volunteered for military service against the Nazis. Here Vermehren, in a statement made available to The Associated Press at Cairo, tells what prompted a confirmed follower of Hitlerism to change his basic pattern of thought and action.)

By ERICH VERMEHREN
CAIRO, March 3—I am happy at last to be able to do something for Germany, and to join as a volunteer the ranks of those who have declared war against the bitterest enemies of Germany—the National Socialists (Nazis).

What made it most difficult for me to come to this decision was the fact that my step was essentially one dictated by conscience. It was much more than an honest political decision, more than a change from one party to another.

Both these considerations weighed with me, but beyond that my action was one that made me a criminal in the eyes of the law of my state and a dishonorable scoundrel in the hearts of many of my friends.

My political convictions, my personal ideas, my recognition of the hopelessness of Germany's situation—these alone could not bear the weight of such a decision.

Followed His Conscience
It was only my conscience which could acquit me of any accusation of high treason and treachery towards my fatherland. But it is high treason if you betray one's fatherland so much that one cannot stand by and say an unqualified "good-bye" to one's country.

That one cannot stand by and say an unqualified "good-bye" to one's country is a principle which I have followed since I was a young man.

It has led to us for 20 years. It has abused our confidence. It has embzzled our property. It has suppressed our spirit. It has made us dishonest through fear. It has outraged our personal liberties.

In this way National Socialism has deprived us in our own country of honor, of liberty and of property.

We are not threatened with slavery from without but from within our own country. The hands of the enemy are upon us, and we are not even aware of it.

I have made up my mind. I have decided to stand by my fatherland, but I have decided to stand by my conscience.

I have decided to stand by my fatherland, but I have decided to stand by my conscience.

I have decided to stand by my fatherland, but I have decided to stand by my conscience.

GERMAN ANZIO DRIVE CALLED COSTLY FAILURE

Third Large Scale Offensive Against Beachhead Force Collapses.

By The Associated Press
NAPLES, March 3—A strong German drive into the center of the Anzio beachhead this week was described officially today as "a costly failure."

Allied headquarters said defense positions remained intact with all lost ground regained.

The enemy offensive, the third large-scale attempt to drive American and British forces into the sea, has now collapsed. Two final German assaults with tanks and infantry late Wednesday were repulsed, it was announced, and no new attacks came yesterday.

American troops of the Third Infantry division bore the brunt of the attack and repulsed "a complete defensive success," a headquarters spokesman said.

Less than a week ago, the Third, originally composed chiefly of troops from the Pacific coast, was officially commended for previous exploits on the beachhead.

Whether the enemy is regrouping for a continuance of the offensive from some other sector is unknown, but a blistering aerial attack delivered yesterday by Flying Fortresses, Liberators and lighter aircraft served as a strong deterrent.

Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark, commanding general of the Fifth army, said last night the enemy had suffered a serious setback.

Naive Loss Heavily
This latest German failure to wipe out the beachhead, other allied officers said, meant heavy losses have been inflicted on the three divisions which spearheaded the assault, centered on a 1,000-yard front midway between Carroceto and Cisterna.

The Mediterranean allied air forces, hurling virtually their entire strength yesterday against the Germans around the beachhead, dropped about 40,000 fragmentation bombs from some 1,000 planes. The German air force made no attempt to intercept.

In the final attack late Wednesday in their two-day offensive the Germans were forced to cross open country and killed artillery tore huge holes in their ranks. Subsequently, American troops wiped out a few minor infiltrations.

"Everywhere now our lines remain intact, as before the offensive began," an allied military commentator said.

Enemy losses included nine tanks knocked out by one American anti-tank unit at the height of the attack and an entire company of possibly 100 men ambushed by the British during a diversionary German assault near the Molella river headwaters south of Carroceto.

Snow, rain and heavy winds remained hampering factors yesterday in the main Fifth army and Eighth army sectors, but artillery duelling and patrolling continued.

Places Support Ties
The allied air forces also sent Spitfires and Thunderbolts along the Yugoslav coast in support of Marshal Tito's forces. They had a field day in knocking out five troop trains, four locomotives, 18 motor transport vehicles, four staff cars and some horse-drawn wagons.

One formation of Spitfires bagged their second enemy E-boats in two days and shot down a German glider plane.

RAF Wellingtons bombed rail installations along the coast yesterday and heavy bombs and incendiaries hit a German ship at the port of Brindisi.

ALLIED FORCE STRENGTHENED

Scouting Turned Into Invasion as Japs Are Caught Off Guard.

By The Associated Press
Gen. Douglas MacArthur communique today that "heavy ground reinforcements" have been landed on Los Negros island in the Bismarck sea.

The Japanese held stepping-stone Tuesday.

Allied headquarters disclosed that the initial Admiralty landing was a scouting expedition in force to probe Japanese strength but, after a first day in which Gen. Douglas MacArthur and his gallant stand later by outnumbered troops, a full-fledged invasion is in progress.

Strong reinforcements have been put ashore. From a beachhead a mile long and three quarters of a mile deep, they are fanning out from the quickly captured Momote airfield. To engage the few thousand Japanese still holding the bulk of Los Negros island.

The elastic offensive shifted from reconnaissance to invasion after allied commanders sensed the Japanese were caught flat-footed and outnumbered into dispersed positions.

Momote airfield, the 5,000-foot airstrip which is the prize of the operation, fell to the Texas-trained cavalrymen immediately after the landing and has since been held against counter-attacks. Engineers are whipping it into shape for use by allied planes.

Reinforcements reached Los Negros after the original landing force had fought bitterly against enemy attempts at night to infiltrate the thin American lines guarding the harbor and beachhead.

Several thousand Japanese soldiers are reported on Los Negros and a larger enemy force may be on adjacent Manus island. Both Manus and Los Negros were ripped by heavy and medium bombers while the cavalrymen awaited reinforcement.

Other allied airmen blasted targets along the enemy-held New Guinea coast, picking on Hanau bay installations from a 170-ton attack. Rabaul, New Britain, took a 38-ton pounding.

President Says Discussions About Half Through for Distribution of Ships.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 3—President Roosevelt said today that discussions were about half completed for transferring roughly one-third of the surrendered Italian fleet to Russia.

The President also told a press-radio conference that Edward B. Stettinius, acting secretary of state, would go to London soon to discuss with British officials a dozen or more questions awaiting solution.

He disclosed the United States and Great Britain already were using some of the Italian tonnage that was surrendered with the capitulation of Italy, and that efforts now are being made to determine how many of these ships or their equivalent can be turned over to the Russian navy.

Stalin Makes Question
He said this was the question he had told previous press conferences that Marshal Stalin had brought up through his Washington ambassador. He described it as a rather old question and related to what ships or their equivalent would go to Russia.

He emphasized that so long as the war lasts the allies will use everything afloat against the enemy but that after the war that was something else.

Asked whether the ships would be manned by Italians, Mr. Roosevelt replied some may and some may not. As for Italian ships, which escaped to the Balearic islands, the President said that was a Spanish problem.

He said since Italy surrendered to the United States, Great Britain and Russia, it was thought advisable to distribute the Italian fleet roughly on a one-third basis to each. He would not say how much tonnage was involved.

Many Questions Up
As for Stettinius' trip, the President said the acting secretary of state, accompanied by several assistants, would leave soon after Secretary Hull returns from a southern vacation. He said it would not be a full dress conference and there would not be a headline in it.

Bricker Has Lead in Home State Poll by Large Margin

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., March 2.—Republican voters in the state of Ohio think highly of their governor, John W. Bricker. He is their first choice for the Republican presidential nomination, ahead of Governor Thomas E. Dewey, General Douglas MacArthur, and Wendell Willkie.

The present survey in Ohio covered all sections of the state and an accurate cross-section of all those who state a preference for the Republican party. These voters were asked which of the following mentioned frequently in the Republican presidential campaign they would prefer as the nominee this year of their party.

Here is the way the vote in the present poll comes out, as compared to a similar poll published in November.

	Today	Nov.
Bricker	41%	40%
Dewey	25	18
MacArthur	15	16
Willkie	11	16
Starnes	3	2

In the present poll, Eric Johnston receives two per cent of the vote, while in the November poll Senator Robert A. Taft received seven per cent of the vote. His name was not included in today's poll.

The poll today, it should be noted, does not fully reflect the impact of Bricker's public appearances since launching his campaign in Washington recently.

As the above table shows, Governor Dewey has gained in popularity among Ohio Republican voters since November. In the earlier poll he won 18 per cent of the vote. Today, with 25 per cent, he shows a seven point gain.

MacArthur is now the third most popular Republican candidate among Ohio Republican voters, Wendell Willkie fourth.

SENATORS TO APPEAL FARM DRAFT ORDER

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 2.—Aroused by claims that tightening of draft deferments for farmers will seriously curtail food production, a group of farm state senators plan a direct appeal to President Roosevelt for a modification of the new selective service regulation.

This became known today after the senate agriculture committee set up a special subcommittee headed by Senator Russell, Democrat of Georgia, to deal with the question. Farm organizations assert about half of the 1,770,000 farm workers now deferred are subject to induction under the revised rules.

Under tentative plans the Russell group will appeal to the White House next week unless selective service acts in the meantime.

Selective Service Director Hensley told the agriculture committee last week he was "open minded" on the matter, but legislators took the view his hands were tied by the later directive from President Roosevelt ordering a review of all occupational deferments.

Rep. Sparkman, Democrat of Alabama, declared the revised rule—boosting the minimum basis for farm worker deferments from eight to 16 units of production—would hit small farmers hardest because he said in many instances production on small farms doesn't measure up to the 16-unit formula.

Senator Bankhead, Democrat of Alabama, said if an appeal to the President fails, congress has pending now legislation, already through the senate, to compel farm worker deferments.

RAF Now Using Six-Ton Bombs To Blast Nazis

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 3—Bombs weighing 12,000 pounds are now crashing down on German targets with enormous destructive effects, the air ministry disclosed tonight.

The largest previously announced bomb used by the RAF was a four tonner.

This new giant RAF weapon was invented by British scientists for attacks on special targets.

"Its destructive effect on a big factory is already proved to be enormous," the air ministry said. The gigantic missile was used in the battle of Lancaster bombers which attacked a German aircraft factory at Albert, in northern France, last night.

"Night photographs showed the 12,000-pounders hit the factory 'fair and square,'" the announcement continued.

"The crews had been given strict instructions to bring the bombs back if there was the slightest doubt about identifying and hitting the target."

War Labor Board Rules on War Plant Wage Boost Request

The regional war labor board at Cleveland today denied a general increase at the U. S. Rubber Co. plant on the Scioto Ordnance Plant area. The Associated Press reported. The increase had been asked by a CIO Rubber Workers of America unit seeking higher starting wages, automatic progression and a five-cent hourly bonus for work in specified hazardous areas.

The board, however, granted a five-cent hourly shift bonus retroactive to Oct. 8, 1943, and ordered adoption of a vacation plan of one week with pay at 2 per cent of the annual earnings for those employed one year, and two weeks' pay at 4 per cent for those with five years of service.

Since production work of the U. S. Rubber Co. at Scioto was discontinued several months ago, it is expected the decision will have little effect, except possibly the five-cent hourly bonus ordered for night workers retroactive to Oct. 8.

Wherever He Must Fight

Your RED CROSS Is at His Side

There isn't one among us who hasn't fought in a war, who can imagine what hell-on-earth the men who survive go through.

Yet without the Red Cross, the combat-life of any soldier would be many times more unbearable. For Red Cross is at his side, to administer blood plasma in battle's midst. It is at his side to keep him in touch with his family.

And those unhappy men who are taken prisoners of war by the enemy, are kept alive by Red Cross food.

Each of us who has a loved one in uniform will rally to the Red Cross War Fund, giving generously, as much money as we can. And those of us who have been spared separation from a son, husband, brother or sweetheart . . . will all the more want to give . . . that others may live.

LEPKE GIVEN STAY TO FILE APPEAL

By The Associated Press
COSSING, N. Y., March 3.—Louis (Lepke) Buchalter, assured of at least two more days of life by a last-minute gubernatorial stay, today looked hopefully to the highest court in the nation to keep him from the electric chair.

The one-time ruler of a vast parcel of crime, who was to have been executed last night with two aides for a 1936 slaying, was told in Sing Sing prison death house 70 minutes before execution time that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey had granted the trio a stay—until 11 p. m. (EWT) tomorrow—pending an appeal to the United States supreme court.

Warden William E. Snyder said Lepke, whose assorted enterprises handled anything from extortion to murder-for-a-fee, was pleased at the news, although it was reported he had been coolly confident all along.

Charles D. Breitell, counsel to Dewey, said in a statement: "Lepke's lawyer had advised him he would apply to the supreme court for a writ of certiorari to be submitted at noon on Saturday, March 4."

The statement said a stay had been asked for Lepke and the others—Louis (Boss) Capone and Emanuel (Mendy) Weiss—until "later this week."

Warden Snyder said unless he received further word from the governor, he would put the three to death at 11 p. m. tomorrow. Announcement of the stay followed by a few hours a surprise visit to the prison by Manhattan District Attorney Frank S. Hogan who said he had conferred with Lepke at at Lepke's request.

Lepke's attorney, J. Bertram Wegman, is seeking a review in the high court of a U. S. circuit court of appeals decision in New York yesterday which upheld a federal court denial of a writ of habeas corpus application.

The three were convicted in 1941 for the slaying of Joseph Rosen in Brooklyn.

Lepke's wife paid what she thought would be her last visit with her husband, and left the prison a few minutes before the stay was announced.

Turkey and Spain Playing Neutrality To Allies' Dislike

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The relations of Turkey and Spain to the allies—a matter which has a highly important bearing on the length of the war—again are in the international limelight.

Neutrality in global conflict calls for vast discretion and horse sense on the part of practitioners. One definition of this status is that it's the state of being neither good nor bad.

The Turks have caused heartburnings by being too good, whereas Spain has made the mistake of leaning too heavily on the bad side. That is, Ankara is said to have failed to respond to allied pressure to come into the war against the Nazis, while Generalissimo Franco has continued to be Hitler's water boy.

Britain reportedly has suspended delivery of supplies, both military and civilian, to Turkey and American lend-lease is said to be included. Some in the Turkish capital are inclined to interpret this as calculated to force the Turks to get into the war on the allied side.

Sequestration in Bulgaria
Be that as it may, there's small doubt that should Turkey march her army up the Balkan peninsula, an early effect likely would be to make Bulgaria desert the axis and precipitate an upheaval which would uncover the right flank of Hitler's battle line in Russia. This would compel him to make a quick retreat or face disaster.

At the time of the recent conferences of America, Britain and Russia, it was generally understood that the Big Three had pressed Turkey to join them in the war. I was informed by a high source that the Turks acquiesced but said "not today—tomorrow."

Ankara was reported to be insisting on the delivery of more military equipment by the allies, and to be afraid they couldn't furnish the goods.

It's difficult to see why the allies should stop supplies to Turkey solely for the purpose of forcing her into the war. However, it would be quite understandable if America and Britain suddenly found their equipment and supplies needed elsewhere. Preparations for the coming invasion of western Europe may be calling for more equipment than originally anticipated. Still, it's obvious that the halting of supplies to Turkey is a stone at once.

As regards Spain, all that America and Britain ever have asked has been that Franco adhere to strict neutrality. There has been no effort to force him into belligerency against the axis. The trouble is that the Spanish dictator right up to the present has been to all intents a belligerent in Hitler's camp, even going to the extent of sending troops to fight against the Russians.

Constant Aid To Nazis
Spain has been one of the main avenues of supply for the Hitlerites from the outside world, and even recently she provided them with fresh credits so that they could continue to buy the war materials with which to fight the allies. That's why the United States a month ago stopped all shipment to Spain, thereby causing a gasoline shortage which drove all private cars and motorcycles off the roads.

France has been using his so-called neutrality as insurance against an allied victory. He is ideologically pro-German, and is credited with hoping for a Nazi victory. Back in July, 1941, when allied fortunes were terribly low, he bewailed America out for tying strings to its financial help, and he accused England of prolonging the war. He claimed that the conflict was over, and that Germany was the victor.

El Caudillo, as they call the dictator, never has quite got over the idea that Hitler was to rule Europe. So the Anglo-American team recently has applied the screws again to bring him into real neutrality.

A man could walk from Gelveston, Tex., due north to the Arctic circle without rising more than 2,000 feet above sea level.

OHIO E BONDS WELL ABOVE DRIVE QUOTA

Ohio today made good on its Fourth War Loan Drive for "people's money" by topping its $174,000,000 E Bond quota, the state headquarters in Cleveland announced today.

Buying $289,832 E Bonds worth $178,703,968.75 Ohioans marked up one sale for every 1.6 residents, setting state campaign records in dollars and number of transactions. It was the first drive in which Ohio met its "people's" quota.

Figures showed Ohio reaching $895,270,119.75 on an over-all quota of $672,000,000. Fifty-five Ohio counties made E Bond quotas, 45 met both requirements.

Area 1, including Marion and 23 other counties in northeastern Ohio, led in money totals with $470,188,000. Counties topping E bond quotas included Crawford, Hardin, Marion, Morrow, Union and Wyandot. Those reaching their over-all quotas included Crawford, Delaware, Hardin, Marion, Morrow, Union and Wyandot.

Nationally, the sales totaled $16,730,000,000 as compared with a quota of 14 billions. E sales nationally were $3,187,000,000, topping the 3 billion quota.

saying: "Don't worry, everything's going to be all right."

MacDonald, who weighed three pounds, had been described as the weakest of the quads at birth, and doctors had been giving him small doses of brandy in addition to his regular diet of sterilized cow's milk and glucose. A hemorrhage was said to be the immediate cause of death.

Other Children Grieving
The other three children were reported doing well.

Before MacDonald's death Nora had talked optimistically to an interviewer of her plans for the babies.

Miss Caron said the quads father "was married about two years ago in America, and they had no children," but added, "I'm hoping arrangements will be made to enable us to get married some time in the future."

She commented, "everyone in Heaton knows I'm single and it would be foolish for me to pretend I'm not."

(In Pittsburgh the wife of Staff Sgt. William Thompson was reported in seclusion last night. Her mother Mrs. Mary Jenkinson, was quoted as saying the family was "no definite proof" Sgt. Thompson was the father of the Heaton quads. She added, "we are Catholics and it is against our religion to divorce. But Eleanor is over 21 and she'll have to make her own decision." Later, Eleanor's father said flatly "we are not applying for a divorce.")

Advices from Washington quoted a U. S. war department spokesman as saying the babies would be eligible for dependency payments if their father is an American soldier and acknowledges them as his children.

Lorain Man Seeking Release from Penitentiary

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., March 3.—Harvey Steldt of Lorain, O., now serving a life sentence in Ohio penitentiary on a charge of obtaining money under false pretense with intent to defraud, asked the federal court yesterday to order his release.

Steldt, who filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, charged his constitutional rights were violated when he was placed in jeopardy a second time on a charge on which he was acquitted Oct. 30, 1942, at Elyria, O.

The day he was acquitted, Steldt contended, he was arrested by Sheriff William Souter of Erie county on the same charge, held in jail without bail and later given the penitentiary sentence by Judge John Saverio of Erie county, despite his plea of innocence.

The President commented briefly on other international topics, but said there was nothing new to report on discussions between the British and the state department regarding a new understanding with the French Committee of National Liberation.

He said discussions are still proceeding.

Asked whether Great Britain and the United States were "cracking down" on neutral Turkey in an economic way, Mr. Roosevelt said he did not know. He suggested the state department be asked about it.

He said he knew nothing more about the Russian-Finnish situation, that what he has seen in the newspapers.

Commenting on the treasury's announcement on the fourth war loan results, President Roosevelt characterized it as a tremendous success.

Collett Statement on McCoy Killings To Be Admitted at Trial.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, C. H., O., March 3.—The state won a major victory today when Judge M. M. Rankin ruled that James W. Collett's confession in the McCoy triple murder case could be introduced as evidence.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, C. H., O., March 3.—James W. Collett testified today a Toledo police official "guaranteed" he would get no more than a year and a day in an asylum if he confessed the triple McCoy murders.

The "guarantee," Collett told Common Pleas Judge H. M. Kaufman, came while he was being questioned under a lie detector in the Toledo police laboratory last Dec. 1. The Clinton county hog breeder signed a statement that day admitting he killed wealthy Elmer McCoy, 58, but could remember nothing of the deaths of McCoy's wife, Forrest, 64, and their daughter, Mildred, 22.

Collett also testified that the official, whom he identified as Lt. George Eckerman, instructed him to sign his (Collett's) son Thomas that he killed McCoy "to make this real."

Collett was one of a group of witnesses called in a defense battle to prove the confession was obtained under duress and hence should not be submitted as evidence by the state.

Questioned by James N. Linton, head of the defense staff, Collett asserted Eckerman "gestured to him what to say in the confession and that Eckerman told him by signing it 'I would save my family from being framed.'"

"He said," Collett added, "he would guarantee because of my lapse of memory that I wouldn't have to be in an asylum more than a year and a day."

Installs Memory Faculty
Collett has contended repeatedly he is subject to losses of memory because of an injury received in a fall from a hay wagon several years ago. He wears a neck brace because of the spinal hurt.

While the confession was being put together, Collett said, he heard Eckerman tell Sheriff W. H. Icenhower of Fayette county "not forget to have him put in without promise or threat."

Linton asked his witness: "Did you ever say to any of them that you were at the McCoy home the day before Thanksgiving?"

"I did not," Collett replied.

Collett said he was placed in a cell after signing the statement and, when he awoke the next morning, exclaimed to himself: "Oh, my goodness, I've done something that will send me to the electric chair."

He decided he must be dreaming, Collett testified, but called in Eckerman to "find out what happened."

Eckerman told him, Collett testified: "When you get down there and see your folks, make this real. Say to them: you killed Elmer but not the women, that you're sorry but you done it so your son and wife could have more land."

On Stand Yesterday
Collett answered questions for more than an hour yesterday as Judge Harry M. Rankin—with the jury excluded from the courtroom—heard defense attorneys try to show the document should not be admitted as evidence.

Prosecutor John B. Hill announced a week after the slayings that Collett admitted shooting McCoy but claimed to know nothing about the other deaths.

Collett testified yesterday he was taken into custody early Nov. 20 and given no lunch although he had two kinds of gland ailments, and internal disorder, arthritis, and a neck injury that forced him to wear a plastic collar with a special chin rest.

He said he was taken from Washington, C. H., to Toledo on a trip that began at midnight and he had no sleep for more than 48 hours; he was so tired on arriving at Toledo, he was able to eat but little; the ride was rough and his head hit the top of the car several times.

Collett related he was taken from the Fayette county jail about midnight and "a newspaper man" went out with me. I didn't know then he was a newspaper man."

Collett added: "The sheriff said they were taking him up to Toledo to put the detector on him too. He was so drunk he could hardly get out of the car."

"The prosecutor didn't show up. I think the sheriff found the prosecutor somewhere. He was in about the same condition as the newspaper man was."

Was Told on Ride
He said the ride was cold because some of those accompanying him insisted on rolling down the automobile windows which aggravated the internal disorder, and two of those on the trip were intoxicated.

Collett declared Prosecutor Hill told Sheriff Icenhower during the trip "I guess you were right the other day, when you said we've got to pin this on this bird. If you want to be re-elected."

Collett asserted the Sheriff and Lt. George Eckerman of the Toledo crime detection bureau were the confession purportedly was made tried to make him believe they were his friends, an effort was made to induce him to "sign something and take this short cut," he was told during questioning to stay in his chair "or we will get rough with you," and it was implied during questioning that signing of a confession would "keep my family from being involved."

Collett testified that enroute to Toledo "I tried to find out where we were going. I asked the sheriff. Everyone else was too drunk to answer. (At Toledo) 'I said I would like to call an attorney, Jim Linton, at Columbus. He (Eckerman) said a lawyer won't do any good.'"

Judge Orders Mistrial in Loerger Slaying

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 3.—The Wayne Loerger trial for first degree murder came to an abrupt end today when the court, dismissing a special panel of talemans, gave Defense Counsel Edward V. Broderick one week in which to show cause why he should not be cited for contempt.

General Sessions Judge John J. Freschi at the same time granted a motion by District Attorney Frank S. Hogan, appearing in court for the first time in the case, to send all records concerning it, both in court and in chambers, for such action as may be warranted.

Hogan said later it would be up to his office to fix the date for a new trial but said he believed it would not be before completion of the contempt action against Broderick.

EARLY SPRING THAW HAMPEERS RED ARMY

By The Associated Press
MOSCOW, March 3.—Despite a freakish, spring-like thaw which is hampering military operations, the Red army is continuing its smashing offensive to liberate the Soviet Baltic republics and has materially improved its positions, dispatches from the front said today.

Temperatures were reported almost as high as they usually are in late April or May, and melting ice and snow was said to be making roads impassable.

Russian forces, nevertheless, captured more territory between Lake Peipus and the Finnish gulf and lightened their hold on Narva's communications, while in the suburbs of Pskov Russian Tommy-guns inched forward in fierce fighting, frontline advisers said.

South of Pskov other Red army forces were reported driving down the 12-mile-long highway from captured Sobolkinov toward Ostrov. The latter city, 32 miles south of Pskov, is a junction of the Pskov-Warsaw-Berlin railway.

German forces battling to hold Pskov were favored by terrain which is admirably suited for defensive operations. Two big rivers, the Velikaya and the smaller Pakov, run through the city, joining in the northern sector and offering natural barrier to the attacking Russians.

Standard Oil Co. Area Meeting Held

Plans for their spring work program were discussed by Standard Oil service station managers of the Marion division in a meeting at Hotel Harding Thursday afternoon. Accomplishments of the last month were reviewed. Twenty-five managers were present from nearby cities and the section was in charge of J. P. Sharkey of Marion, division manager, and F. L. Barnhart, assistant division manager.

George E. Harrison, 52, colored, was fined $15 and costs in municipal court yesterday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication and disorderly conduct. He was arrested Wednesday at railroad construction gang camp cars when police were called to investigate a disturbance.

he had no sleep for more than 48 hours; he was so tired on arriving at Toledo, he was able to eat but little; the ride was rough and his head hit the top of the car several times.

MACARTHUR'S FORMER WIFE TO WED. MRS. LIONEL ATWILL (RIGHT), FORMER WIFE OF THE ACTOR AND ALSO OF GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR, AND CAPT. ALF HELBERG, 39, ARMY AIR FORCE HAND LEADER, (LEFT) WILL BE MARRIED

Wed. in Washington March 11. Mrs. Atwill said. It will be her fourth marriage. Her first husband was Walter Brooks of Baltimore. She and Capt. Helberg, a native of Minneapolis, met at a service men's party in Washington a year ago.

A capacity audience filled the dining room of Epworth Methodist church Thursday night to hear Dr. Rolin Walker of Delaware, professor emeritus of Bible at Ohio Wesleyan university. His subject, "Public Utilities of the Spiritual World," was illustrated by parallel drawn between man's use of the Bible and his use of modern devices, such as radio.

Dr. Walker explained that God sends his word through the Bible much in the manner that news is broadcast by radio. Taking vitamin as his next point, he named the five vital qualities of the Bible applying to them to the life-sustaining qualities of vitamins: A, appeal; B, imagination; C, appeal to the lyric quality; D, challenge to individual thinking; E, appeal to the emotions; and F, the fact that the Bible was written under difficult circumstances.

After explaining that all parts of the Bible should not be obeyed literally, he said that every one must think situations out for themselves after they have read what the Bible has to say about them.

A free-will offering dinner was held at 6:15 preceding Dr. Walker's talk, and afterward classes were held for persons interested in children's, youth and adult work in the Sunday school.

Next Thursday night William E. Shaw, director of religious activities at Ohio Wesleyan university, will be the speaker. His talk, the third in a series of four, will be a discussion of "How Big Is Your World?"

A potluck dinner at 6:15 in the church dining room will precede Rev. Shaw's speech, and classes conducted by Dr. Donald Timmerman of Ballerontown, Rev. and Mrs. Lester Norris of Delaware will follow. The last of the series of four meetings sponsored by the church will be held March 18.

will be possible to keep ration points at, or even near, present levels only if the food output this year is greater than ever before.

The vegetable section slashes the ration cost of a number 2 can of peas from ten to three points. For the same size cans, point values on corn are cut from eight to six points, tomatoes from ten to five and asparagus from 15 to 10.

Fresh lima beans are hiked to 25 points for a number 2 can (now 20 points) while tomato catsup goes from 18 to 23.

Explaining the sharp boost of canned fruit point-values, OPA said movement of these items into consumption has been nearly 18 per cent faster than scheduled reductions of vegetable values which released more points for buying fruit.

Ranking from six to 13 points, the point value hikes on canned fruit, for number 2's cans, gives peaches as well as pears a new value of 43 points, raised from 30; pineapple is increased seven points to a total of 43; cherries, exclusive of maraschino, go from 27 to 30 points; fruit cocktail gets a new value of 43 points, up from 36.

For fruits in No. 2 cans, point values on apples are increased six points to 18, and applesauce is up five points to 25.

Stocks Below Year Ago
The hike on tomato juice, from three to six points, for a number 2 can. Stocks are far below a year ago, OPA said.

In giving number 2 cans of grapefruit juice a one-point value, OPA said the juice was made point-free last December to move the large supply into consumption before arrival of the new pack. This has been accomplished, the agency said, and now becomes necessary to put a point value on the item to get better distribution of the new pack.

Orange juice and blended citrus juices, returned to the open market this season, are given a two-point value for number 2 cans "to assure fair distribution."

Point values for the items in which changes were made:

Asparagus (No. 2 can)	15	10
Beans, fresh, shelled

MISS KNOUFF WEDS. ENSIGN SMART IN COLUMBUS CHURCH Of interest here is the marriage of Miss Virginia Knouff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Knouff and Ensign L. Edwin Smart, son of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Smart of Columbus, which took place Wednesday evening in the Indianapolis Presbyterian church at Columbus. The bridegroom is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Guthery of 213 Bradford street.

Myriads of tall candles lighted the church and the traditional seven-branched candelabra adorned the altar. Additional five-branched candelabra lighted up the vases of calla lilies and gladioli which were placed against a background of woodwardia, ferns and palms.

Preceding the ceremony a musical program was given by Mrs. R. F. King, aunt of the bride, of Cleveland, accompanied on the violin by her son, R. F. King Jr., a student at Ohio State university. The ceremony was read by Rev. Robert R. Reed, pastor of the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Miss Carol Breckneider acted as maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Evans, Miss Esther Smart, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Murray Bevis and Mrs. Ralph Carman.

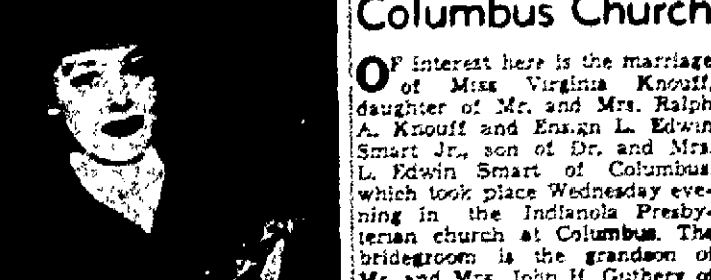

Ensign Richard Taylor Rieves Jr., of Montgomery, Ala., served as best man for the bridegroom, and ushers were Ensign J. Fowler Kelley Jr., of Edinburg, N. Y., V. Gordon Griffin of Norfolk, Va., Ensign F. Arthur Johnson Jr. of Oil City, Pa., Ensign S. Earl Line Jr., of Harrisburg, Pa., and Murray Bevis.

Miss Knouff wore a gown of pale ivory satin brocade made along semi-princess lines with plain basque-like bodice, belted waist and long fitted sleeves. Pulling in the skirt was concentrated at the low waist line on either side of the front and back panels and small bows of the same material held the fullness in place. The long train was wide and circular. The veil of imported illusion extended beyond the length of the train and fell from a tiara of pearlized orange blossoms. She wore a strand of real pearls, a gift accruing from infancy from her family, and the bridegroom's gift, a pair of cultured pearl earrings. She carried a prayer book to which were attached her orchids.

The gowns of the bride's attendants were of pale pastel shades. They were identically made with sweetheart necklines and bracelet-length sleeves. The long fitted bodices accentuated the shirred fullness of the skirts. They wore head-dresses of flowers and petals matching their dresses and their only jewelry were silver bracelets, gifts of the bride. Their semi-colonial bouquets were fashioned of violets and roses.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents were hosts at a reception at the University Faculty club. Mrs. Knouff was attired in a crepe romaine Monterey rose dinner gown with a white orchid and Mrs. Smart wore a dinner gown of French blue chiffon. Her flowers also were orchids.

DICK NARDI SAVED IN BOMBER BLAST

By The Associated Press
A BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, March 3—A two-mile fall in a disintegrating plane before Bombarrier Lt. Richard (Dick) Nardi could detach his parachute from a cable and float 1,000 feet to the ground was recounted today by the former Ohio State and professional football player.

Lieutenant Nardi, whose home is in Cleveland, O., said no one ever would know what caused an explosion in his Liberator bomber as it was enroute to attack a Dutch airfield recently.

"A huge flash of fire hit me in the face and I dived for the door in the nose compartment," Nardi said. "Halfway out, my parachute caught on the cable and I hung there head down."

"I saw the wings and other parts of the ship fall off as she dived probably 600 miles an hour. Somehow I got straight enough to pull myself back and clear myself of the cable. It looked like only the nose of the ship was left there. I had about 1,000 feet of altitude when I jumped."

"Lucky! There must have been two angels floating down on my shoulders. It scares hell out of me just to think about it now."

ITALIANS TO CALL 10-MINUTE STRIKE

By The Associated Press
NAPLES, March 3—Italian labor leaders advised allied authorities today they intended to go ahead with a 10-minute "strike" tomorrow in defiance of an official demand that it be called off.

The strike had been called as a protest against Prime Minister Churchill's recent endorsement of the government of Premier Badoglio.

One American official said a strike would mean the arrest of the labor leaders.

Strikes in war zones are prohibited by proclamation of the allied military government.

The Communist and Socialist action parties, which called the demonstration strike, instructed public service and port workers by handbills to avoid any interruption of their work, including that of handling of supplies for troops and allied administrations.

A second Tass report concerning Spain came from Lisbon. It said German engineers have been building secret bases in Spain on the coast of the Bay of Biscay. Certain Spanish airfields, especially those at Bilbao, Oviedo and Santander are often used by the Germans, the dispatch said.

Mediterranean tour said he thought a definite battle swing in favor of the allies would come only when weather permitted them to make full use of their air superiority. Italian weather usually clears late in March or early April.

Before definite progress can be made on the beachhead the stalemate around Cassino must be broken.

It seems unlikely the allied command, with the western front in formation, will commit more troops than absolutely necessary to the Italian fighting, but will depend on air superiority and sea mobility to tip the scales.

Besides the military urgency of smashing the Germans it is becoming increasingly more important politically to take Rome.

Election Board, Deadlocked, Turns Problem Over To State

A game of political checkers that developed in the Marion county board of elections, with the two political parties represented on the four-member board each trying to convince the other that "it's your move," has gone to the secretary of state for arbitration.

This situation developed when both the Republican and Democratic members of the election board adopted the same strategy when the board met to organize Wednesday afternoon.

After electing James F. Lauer of Prospect, a Democrat, as temporary chairman, and George Thomas of Prospect, Republican, as temporary secretary, the board turned to the matter of electing a clerk.

Mr. Lauer called for nominations for clerk but there was nothing but silence and smiles. Again he asked for nominations, and so on until five separate calls had been made without a response.

On the Burma front, Japanese troops have counter-attacked against allied troops driving on the important base at Akyab, 45 miles away, while another allied force, only 39 miles north of Akyab, are meeting stiff resistance, southeast Asia allied headquarters said.

American bombers swept over Japanese supply areas in northern Burma, the communiqué said, starting large fires.

Japan lost more than six ships a day—181 in all—during February, allied communiqués showed. Included were 25 units of the enemy's battle fleet. In all, a third of Japan's prewar navy lies on the bottom of the sea.

45,000 Square Miles Recovered from Japs

By The Associated Press
Allied forces have wrested approximately 45,000 square miles away from Japan's bloody-gained empire in the Pacific, but there's still a long way to go before she's cut down to the size promised by United Nations leaders—her own homeland territory.

The whittling process began with the American invasion of Guadalcanal and adjoining islands in the lower Solomons in August, 1942. The latest cut was made in this week's Yankee landings in the Admiralty Islands in the Bismarck sea some 1,100 miles to the northwest.

Between the dates of those two invasions three major allied offensives have been thrust ever nearer the Japanese homeland—one up through the southern Pacific islands, another through the Gilbert and Marshall Islands, and a third to the tip of the Aleutians, pointing like a finger toward Tokyo.

COLUMBUS, O., March 3—Gov. Bricker may call a special session of the legislature late this month to simplify voting by Ohio's service personnel, the governor indicated before leaving yesterday for a speaking tour of the south in connection with his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination. Bricker said he would delay a contemplated speaking tour through the west until after the special session, for which he has "set aside a couple of days late in March."

Allied airmen of the Mediterranean forces destroyed 137 German planes during February, the majority of them near the Anzio beachhead, it was announced.

Americans scored 98 of the victories. The remainder were credited to British fliers.

The Germans drove 1,500 yards—nearly a mile—into the center of the American-British defense line midway between Carroceto and Cisterna before nightfall Tuesday, the opening day of the attack.

Gen. Clark's statement that allied lines had now been restored to their original positions gave no indication whether the advance was continuing, but latest reports said fighting still was in progress.

STRIKE KITS TAKEN

By The Associated Press
CANTON, O., March 3—Grading operations at Timken Roller Bearing company's main bearing plant here were sharply curtailed today after approximately 150 workers employed in five departments walked out, company officials reported. A company spokesman said about 1,000 men were employed in the departments on three shifts, and that the stoppage had spread to 500 by the 10:30 p. m. central war time shift last night.

HITS DRAFT RULING

By International News Service
NEW YORK—Fifteen thousand men between 18 and 22, professionally trained in critical industries of chemistry, engineering and physics, are facing the draft under the new ruling for these ages, according to Dr. A. B. Newman, chairman of the manpower committee of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

"These young men will do more good in the industrial field than in the Army," he declared.

Buenos Aires holds some three and a half million people—about one-fourth of Argentina's total population.

BATTLE AREA

Mediterranean tour said he thought a definite battle swing in favor of the allies would come only when weather permitted them to make full use of their air superiority. Italian weather usually clears late in March or early April.

Before definite progress can be made on the beachhead the stalemate around Cassino must be broken.

It seems unlikely the allied command, with the western front in formation, will commit more troops than absolutely necessary to the Italian fighting, but will depend on air superiority and sea mobility to tip the scales.

Besides the military urgency of smashing the Germans it is becoming increasingly more important politically to take Rome.

It's been said often that the United States is a nation of good cooks. This is true partly because we have lured to our shores many famous foreign chefs, and their culinary secrets have become a part of our own cooking patterns. It is true also because we have had available to all the greatest variety of food known to any nation.

Many of us have failed, however, to take advantage of the fact that we are surrounded by American neighbors of foreign background, perhaps quite different from our own. If we could know their food secrets we'd stand a far better chance of enjoying our wartime meals. Also, there's scarcely a cook of European background who isn't habitually less wasteful than the average American cook. The greatest contribution a housewife can make to this war is not wasting one scrap of food. Let's begin by taking a quick look at the lessons we can learn from our Scandinavian neighbors.

SWEDISH
Swedish smorgasbord, the Scandinavian food offering most familiar to Americans, with the varying and interesting uses it makes of fish and raw vegetables, presents one of the most economical means of entertaining for an American household. In the interest of wartime economy, however, we serve smorgasbord as a whole buffet meal, topped off by dessert and coffee, instead of an appetizer in the Swedish manner.

DANISH
We know less, perhaps, about Danish food, which has also contributed to offer us. Danish

Dorris Quits Harding Coaching Job As Call To Army Nears

By CHARLES ELLIOTT
After serving 18 months as head coach of Harding High's football team and physical education classes, Vic Dorris is going into a bigger game—war—as a private in the United States Army.

Dorris received notice this week from his local selective service board that he is to report for induction next Thursday at the Ft. Thomas, Ky., reception center. He has handed his resignation as Harding coach and physical supervisor to E. E. Holt, city superintendent of schools, and today was his last at those two posts.

Dorris passed his final physical examination in Columbus, Feb. 9 and was pronounced fit for general military service. He had been 1-A since late in October, about the time of the big Ashland-Harding grid game.

Under Coach (in a few days Pvt.) Dorris, Harding football teams have won two North Central Ohio conference football championships, those of the 1942 and 1943 campaigns. He came to Harding in September of 1942 from Granville where he had been athletic director and grid mentor for two seasons.

President grid machines have lost only two games in 17 with Dorris as head coach and Joe Petrich, formerly Thomas A. Edison Junior High school tutor, as his assistant. In 1942, a strong Sandusky team blanked the Presidents, 20 to 0, and last fall, Findlay upset the locals, 6 to 0, at Findlay, both non-M. C. O. games. The only time the team when Ashland fought the Prexies to a 0 to 0 standstill in October.

VIC DORRIS

Wins Two Titles
As coach at Granville, Dorris led his team to two Licking county titles in a row. His 1940 Granville team won three games, tied one and lost two, and his 1941 eleven took six victories, tied one and dropped one decision.

In four years of high school coaching, Dorris has not seen his teams suffer a loss in league games.

Dorris graduated from Ohio State university in 1938 after playing for three seasons on the Buckeye eleven of Francis Schmidt. He alternated between halfback and fullback and particularly excelled as a punter and ball carrier. In tip-top playing condition, he weighed in at around 185 pounds.

Vic did his high school gridding at Belleire High during the 1929, 1930, 1931 and 1932 seasons, being a back all four years. He also was a scholastic trackman, being used in the shot-put, discus and javelin throw. He had to forego track in college and took up baseball in its stead. He played outfield for Ohio State for three years, 1936, 1937 and 1938.

His first coaching job was as assistant Ohio State freshman grid mentor in 1938, the fall following his graduation. He served in that capacity two years and was head freshman baseball coach at State for the 1939 and 1940 campaigns.

Gains Master's Degree
Dorris received his master's degree in health and physical education at State in 1941.

Of almost equal importance to the high-ranking grid team he has produced, is his innovations in the physical education department of Granville and Harding High schools. The local physical

Lightweight Title Muddle Up Tonight for Final Decision

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 3—Third and final episode of the Beau Jack-Bob Montgomery series for the New York version of the world's lightweight title is tonight's feature at Madison Square Garden.

And everyone's wondering if the all-star cast will do an about-face this time and follow the script.

They took turns playing hero in the two previous installments, each winning when the betting boys thought he wouldn't. Last May, as now Beau Jack held the crown and was a 5-12 favorite. Bob beat him and took the title.

Last November Bob was quoted at 5 to 12, so Beau won and got back the bauble. For tonight's heat Beau Jack is favored at 1 to 2—and anything that happens can't be considered unusual unless the ex-Augusta bootblack wins.

They'll be shooting at three targets. One is the championship, the second is a March 31 shot at Sammy Angott, holder of the NBA title, and third (surprise) is a share of the more than $90,000 gate. The Angott match with the winner will clear up the lightweight title muddle which has existed since 1942, for both the NBA and the New York commissions have promised full recognition for the victor.

Hob and Beau wound up training yesterday with Jack weighing 134 and Montgomery 136½.

Angott, other half of the title picture, meets Juan Zurita in Hollywood Wednesday night in a championship fight, and Sammy is a 1 to 3½ favorite. In over-the-weight fights Angott has beaten Montgomery three times, and fought a draw with Beau Jack.

Harding Students in Galion Event
Vic Dorris will perform his last official duty as physical education instructor of Harding High school when he directs his 22-man President tumbling team in their role in the second annual physical fitness night at the Galion Junior High school gymnasium tonight.

The playing of the Star Spangled Banner by the Galion High school band is scheduled to raise the curtain on the two and three-quarter hour event at 7:15.

The Harding's team part in the program will consist of a tumbling exhibition from 7:35 to 8 o'clock, boxing and wrestling matches, and an obstacle course race with the Galion High boys coached by Jim Lympier in the finale from 9:30 to 9:40. The wrestling match, scheduled to get under way at 9:15, pits George Roest, 145 pounds of Harding, and Carl, Galion 145-pounder, Walter Bartlett, 163, of Marion will meet Cerreto, 165, of Galion and Harding's Merle Jackson will face Herb Dutschel of Galion in boxing bouts scheduled immediately following the wrestling entertainment.

In charge of the program are Coach Lympier and Miss Rose Seifert, Galion High school girls' physical instructor. A dance and meal will follow the program.

Grubmier and Walberg Wrestle Show Winners
Gorilla Grubmier was victorious over Buddy Knox in the first of two 80-minute wrestling bouts at the Armory last night. Grubmier won the first fall of the three-fall tussle in 17 minutes with a body slam and press. He took the match when Knox was again brought down, this time with a crab hold executed by Grubmier in four minutes.

In the second 90-minute three-fall event Whitely Walberg triumphed over the Black Panther. The Panther won the first fall in 11 minutes with a headlock. The second was taken by Walberg, also in 11 minutes, with a rolling hammer lock. Walberg took the bout when he won the third fall in nine minutes with a body press.

A 30-minute, one-fall preliminary was fought to a draw between Angelo Martinelli and Bobby Castle.

Same Five Players Started All Games
By The Associated Press
WOOSTER, O., March 3—The same five players started every Wooster college basketball game during the 1943-44 season and today they were announced as the only letter winners for the recently completed hardwood campaign.

The five are Capt. Dick Craven of Auburn, Ind.; Bill Lytle of Ben Avon, Pa.; Bob Baxter of Lockport, N. Y.; Stan Partenheimer, former Akron Buchtel athlete who now lives at Mansfield, O.; and Don Swegan of Girard, O. Those five played practically the full time for Wooster.

Atlanta Fans Win Pennant NOTES FROM THE CLUBHOUSE WITH AP SPORTS WRITERS

By ROMNEY WHEELER
Associated Press Sports Writer
ATLANTA, Ga.—Well, sir! The Atlanta Crackers are going to raise a baseball pennant this season—and that wouldn't be news except that the Crackers finished the season in eighth place after being pretty generally kicked around by every one else in the Southern League.

Pennants, as such, aren't a novelty to Atlanta. They've hoisted four in the last nine years. This pennant will be a novelty, however, because it's being presented to the Atlanta fans. Win, loose or draw, Atlanta fans have patronized their ball park. And every year, for ten years, Atlanta has led the league in attendance. In that decade, the club has drawn 2,115,170 paying customers—an average of 221,150 per season, with a high mark of 330,795 in 1933. Even in 1943, with a losing team and harassing transportation problems, the club drew 124,057, approximately 20,000 more than the next best city in the league.

Fans Real Champs
"Atlanta fans are the real champions of the league," says President Earl Mann. "And during the 1944 season we will celebrate a 'Cracker fans' night' to raise a real pennant emblematic of this championship."

Pennant oddities are nothing new to Mann. He made something of a footnote, at least, in baseball history by raising a pennant to a non-existent ball club in a non-existent baseball league in 1932.

It was at Hartford, Conn., where Mann was business manager of the Brooklyn farm club, Hartford won the pennant in 1931, but before the honor could be suitably celebrated the following season, the league ingloriously folded up.

The end came around July 4 and there was nothing left for Mann to do except stay around to pay off bills, lock up the office and send the furniture to storage. The pennant kicked around among the odds and ends until Mann got an idea.

Calling in Bert Kaene, Hartford baseball writer, and Bruce Lindsey, photographer, Mann staged solitary march to the flagpole in the empty stadium, raised the pennant solemnly, saluted it and pulled it down again. It was the first time anything like it had happened in baseball. John Kier, a New York Times man, wrote a poem about it in the New York Times from which, incidentally, Mann still can quote lines about "galloping bankruptcy."

It's a Mania
Mann has a first-division complex verging on mania. Last season was the first time in his career that any club he headed has finished in the cellar—and only the second time that one of his clubs has finished out of first division. The 1942 Crackers finished fifth, breaking his previous record which extended back to Brooklyn's Rocky Mount (N. C.) pennant-winners in 1929.

At that, he salvaged some enthusiasm last year. A 17-year-old high school boy, fresh out of the sandlot, made the grade with the Crackers at shortstop. He was Roy Harrisfield of Atlanta, signed by Mann in the winter of 1942 as infield insurance. He played the entire season at shortstop, batting a creditable .265, with 62 hits and 157 total bases, including 17 doubles, two triples and one homer. His runs-batted-in were a modest 35, but Mann was delighted.

"Some day he'll be a great major league ball player," he says. "He's just a kid, but he's got everything that it takes."

Keltner To Play Ball Until Called for Army Service

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, March 3—Third baseman Ken Keltner says he'll quit his winter job in an essential industry to report for spring training with the Cleveland Indians March 13 "and see what happens."

Club Vice President Roger Peckinpah contacted the infielder by telephone yesterday after receiving his signed contract and quoted him as saying: "If the Army wants me, that's okay, but I'm going to play ball until I'm called."

Keltner holds a 2-B classification on the basis of his employment in a Milwaukee foundry and is believed to be the first major league player to disregard his selective service status and announce his decision to return to the diamond.

The receipt of signed contracts from three other Indians also was disclosed by Peckinpah. They are Ed Killeman, promising hurler, purchased last season from Baltimore of the International League; Cliff Mapes, recruit outfielder; Pat Seerey, another gardener who played frequently last season.

Gloves Tickets Go On Sale
Reserved seat tickets for the Marion Golden Gloves boxing tournament at the Armory March 13, 14 and 17 went on sale today at Markert & Lewis Clothing store on East Center street. Don Williamson, president of the Y. M. C. A. service club, tournament sponsor, announced.

Price of a reserved seat is $1.10. Some general admission tickets at 75 cents each, will be sold before the tournament at Markert & Lewis but most will be on sale at the gate the nights of the fights.

Already numerous orders for seats, some in sizeable quantities, have been received by Y's Men's officials. Biggest single purchase was made by the Foreman's club of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. which reserved a block of 78 seats. Joe Yanitell, tournament trainer who is to act as a fighters' second at the Gloves, has ordered 18 tickets for the first night for employees of the Army Air Forces Supply Depot.

Four more entries for the tourney have arrived at the Y. M. C. A., official training headquarters. Three of the new entrants are Camp Millard soldiers and the other is a Marion youth, Robert Boyd of 306 Spencer street, 17 years old and 152 pounds. Soldier-fighters are Pvt. Joseph L. Januzzi, 140 pounds, Sgt. William E. Hoare, 161½ pounds, and Sgt. A. G. Ramirez, 145 pounds. Ramirez indicated that he would probably taper off to 138 pounds, or almost from the welterweight down to the lightweight class, before tourney action starts in less than two weeks.

Junior High Cage Loop Season Ends with All Three Teams Tied

A three-way tie for the Junior High basketball loop championship resulted when Vernon defeated Edison, 33 to 25, last night on the Edison floor. Central, Vernon and Edison have broken even on wins and losses, each with three league victories and three defeats. School officials today said no playoff is planned.

Had Edison won last night's game, it would have capped two honors because they had three wins and only two losses to Central's three wins and three losses and Vernon's two wins and three losses.

Last night's game was tied in three spots before the evening ended, and Vernon was unable to forge ahead until the first part of the third quarter when Courtwright scored a field goal. Courtwright was taken out on fouls in the fourth quarter as Vernon's Edison's Willis and Field. Willis was high scorer with 13 points to his credit.

Edison salvaged a reserve game by a slim margin of 24 to 23. Gherman made the winning basket for Edison in the last 15 seconds of play. Edison players were Riddle, Gherman, Gwinner, Johnson, Showalter and McCleary. Vernon cagers were Estes, Baling, Andrews, Ahrens, S... Roest and Hayes.

A summary of the game follows:

Special to The Star
KENTON, O., March 3—Class A district tournament competition opened here last night with Crestline bowing before a strong Celina team, 46-44, and Findlay walloping St. Marys, O., 74-31.

Saturday night Galion will play Celina at 7:30 and Kenton will meet Findlay at 8:45.

Crestline put up a good scrap last night and would have come through with a victory had it not been for Berry, star Celina forward, who jammed 11 field goals and two free throws through the hoop.

Marion St. Mary's To Play Lancaster
Marion St. Mary's Irish enter district Class B tournament competition in Otterbein college gymnasium at Westerville tonight with Lancaster St. Mary's parochials as their leather-tough foe. Starting time is 9 o'clock for the game, which will be the last on a four-contest card, that will wind up first round play.

The Irish of Coach Lane McCrate completed their regular season last Friday night by dropping a 32 to 28 game to Crestline after being in front at various stages of the game. St. Mary finished with a record of 11 victories and eight defeats. The Lancaster team posted a similar slate and subsequently tonight's tilt is being called a toss-up.

Dan McGinnis placed first among Irish individual scorers with 173 points in 18 games. Center Jim Lawler was second with 123 in 19 and Forward Steve Norris found the nets for 112 markers in 18 conflicts. Johnny Gray, slight but shifty senior forward, finished with more court gusto than any of his Irish mates as he racked up 53 points in his last six games. He had 94 for the season. Guard Bob Wintersteller barely failed to make the 100 group as he totaled 99 points.

The three games that will precede the battle between the two St. Mary outfits at Westerville tonight are: Carroll vs Fredericktown at 6, Worthington vs Granville at 7, and Magnetic Springs or Pickway Twp. vs Newark St. Francis at 8.

LIST PRIZE WINNERS IN BOWLING MATCH
Art Yazel, whose 1849 total gave him the all-events crown in last week's men's city bowling tournament by a runaway margin, was awarded $15 for his high-scoring efforts and other tourney winners shared $443 in prize money. The distribution of which was determined by the Marion Bowling Association this week.

Other top-ranking prize winners and their earnings were: Schaffner-Dentzer squad $15 for first place in the handicap section of the five-man team division and $15 for the largest number of pins actually felled; Severns and McMill $12 for the largest number of pins above their 1943-44 season average in the doubles division; M. Snyder and Floyd Messmore $10 for highest actual pinfall in the doubles division; M. Griffith $8 for the largest number of pins over his 1943-44 season average in the single division; and Don Greenland $6 for highest actual pinfall in the singles.

with an all-civilian lineup. There is a Navy V-3 unit on the campus but local rules prevented those boys from playing intercollegiate basketball.

Same Five Players Started All Games
By The Associated Press
WOOSTER, O., March 3—The same five players started every Wooster college basketball game during the 1943-44 season and today they were announced as the only letter winners for the recently completed hardwood campaign.

The five are Capt. Dick Craven of Auburn, Ind.; Bill Lytle of Ben Avon, Pa.; Bob Baxter of Lockport, N. Y.; Stan Partenheimer, former Akron Buchtel athlete who now lives at Mansfield, O.; and Don Swegan of Girard, O. Those five played practically the full time for Wooster.

The Scots won 9 of 12 games

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

A Sequel to Pitfalls of Love.

WHAT WAS there about the bag which Hugh had just packed, which made him refuse to entrust it to me for carrying upstairs, when he was unburdened with the feeble, faltering steps of Lee Chow?

The question swirled around the crevices of my mind as I flushed at his brusqueness. He saw the flush, and explained, but did not change his dictum.

Too Heavy

"Sorry!" he said. "Didn't mean to be so abrupt, but I have an unconquerable aversion to having a woman carry my burdens for me. That thing is altogether too heavy for you to carry. When you hand it to me, you will see what I mean."

I knew he meant to put me at ease, but while the bag was moderately heavy it was not too much of a burden for any healthy woman. I could not resist telling him so, as I took it up and put it into his disengaged left hand when he had helped Lee Chow up and had put his strong right arm beneath that of the old Chinese.

"You call this heavy?" I glibbed. "You should see the milk pails every night and morning!"

"What are you doing carrying milk pails?" Hugh fairly roared. "Doing Jim's work as well as the household tasks?"

"Oh, I don't carry them from the barn to the house," I explained. "Except once in a while when I go out to learn how to milk. But I lift them around inside the kitchen. I attend to all our family creamery business. I do the milking, strain and set and skim the milk and make the butter and cottage cheese."

Face Changed

His face suddenly changed, and something came into his eyes which made me suddenly avert my own.

"I might have known you'd take things in your stride like this," he said softly, and I hurried around to the other side of Lee Chow with the heady feeling which comes to any feminine human from eight to eighty, upon receiving a genuine tribute of admiration from man or boy.

I acquiesced myself of any urge to the old romantic impulse which had made me thrill at Hugh Grantland's Sydney Gordon attitude toward me in the old days when Dicky's and my marvellous ship was sailing through so many tempests. It is a little thingy, time is all over now, and Dicky and I are married comrades, sure of ourselves and of each other. But I said to myself that Hugh had not forgotten how to turn a convincing and gratifying compliment.

I turned my attention to Lee Chow, finding escape in solitude for my feeble guest.

Inquiry

"Won't the stairs fatigue you too much?" I asked.

"No indeed," he answered, and Hugh added a thought-provoking corollary.

"After what he's been through, it will be a saunter. Besides, it is the last lap of the journey. He can go to bed now and stay there indefinitely. By the way, is there a physician around here who can be trusted? I know all physicians should be, but I mean a super-special one?"

"How skillful a man do you need?" I asked.

"Why?" he countered as we came to the staircase and started up the steps.

"Because there's an old man in Bridgehampton who had a wonderful reputation in his day. He isn't counted as up to date now, as some people wish, but Father approves of his medical skill — and his discretion. Our younger physicians are all in the army."

"I know," Hugh said. "But your father's approval is good enough for me. Tomorrow, I'm going to have a phony illness so we can call this doctor over. There! We're at the head of the stairs. How do you feel?" he asked his charge anxiously.

Icy Hand

"Very well," the Chinese said, but the hand which I was clasping was icy cold, and I was glad that the house was warm, and the fireplace in my father's room all for a blazing fire.

We went slowly down the hall and through the door of my father's suite. Hugh handed me the bag, and with a wistful look he moved his slippers and covered him with blankets.

"I'll get off the lounging robe later," he said. "But do you mind waiting a few minutes before you go over to see about your taxi man? There's time, isn't there?"

"Oh, yes," I told him, "plenty of time. He doesn't come past 'Tee's' until noon."

"Then and stick around for a few minutes. I may want you to call your doctor today instead of tomorrow. I don't just like the look of things."

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Rickets.

OF THE TWO pre-eminent spring diseases of childhood — rheumatic fever and rickets — the story of rickets is far the more hopeful. We know its cause and prevention. We have been applying the prevention now for nearly thirty years and we know it works. If a child develops rickets it can be said with nearly 100 per cent accuracy that it is the parent's fault. Once so common that, at this time of year, clinics and doctor's offices were crowded with the patients it has now almost completely disappeared.

Rickets is a softening of the bones. Softening of the bones occurs in adults, but the conditions are very rare. True rickets is a disease of infancy and childhood occurring between the ages of four months and three years. The defect is one of calcification of the bones, leading to deformities of the legs — bowlegs, knock-knees of sabre shin — also, of the ribs, the skull (the formation of a square, boxlike head) and the bones of the arms. In an infant swollen and sore wrists and ankles are a good sign.

This defect of calcification is not due to lack of calcium in the diet, but lack of Vitamin D in the body. In some way Vitamin D is necessary in the body, for the laying down of calcium in the bones. The baby is able to get Vitamin D in the food, or it is able to manufacture its own Vitamin D.

For the manufacture of Vitamin D the action of sunshine is required on the skin. That is why rickets is a spring disease. During the winter the baby is not exposed to sunshine so much. And it must be out of doors sunlight ordinary window panes filter out the rays that create Vitamin D in the skin. So after the winter is past rickets begins to manifest itself — the period of most frequent

For Saturday, March 3

THIS LUCKY traveler for this day holds excellent stimuli for fortune and success by a determined, confident and active marshaling of all the forces and facilities upon the chivalrous objective. Use assertive, constructive ability, integrity, persistence and decisive attack, and appeal by personal influence and charm. It need be. This combination may attract the hearty support and substantial endorsement of those in place and power, but in all be cautious as to the regularity of documents or writings involved. Be sure to stick to facts in speech and writings. Refrain from exaggeration and extravagance.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of excellent opportunity for winning cherished hopes, wishes and fondly desired objects, mainly by the concentrated assembling of the varied assets of energy, brain, spirit and personal industry, application, perseverance and decisive action, with initiative, aggressiveness and skill. Use their convincing appeal to those in high places ready to cooperate generously. But refrain from extravagance and prodigality, with haste, nerves and especially in writings or agreements. Beware misconstructed words; make facts clear.

A child born on this day will have splendid ability for attaining his desires for a successful and happy life, assisted by influential persons in his life. Old and new friends will be sure to stick to facts in speech and writings. Refrain from exaggeration and extravagance.

Answers:—Psychoanalysis is one of the methods used in the broad field of psychological medicine. The psychiatrist devotes his attention to those definitely unbalanced mentally and disturbed. Psychoanalysis is applied to those unhappy and maladjusted, but responsible.
